

Arbitration

Arbitration

Dispute settlement is one of the concerns of businesses. The time and cost which may be spent on such a procedure in the courts leads the parties to a given dispute to refer their dispute to arbitration. As such, the firm provides any legal support and services related to the arbitration process including a forum for arbitrating and other services may be required for the resolution of a potential dispute by means of arbitration.